Please change the following active sentences to the passive voice.

1. The lawyer finished the presentation.
   The presentation was finished by the lawyer.
2. Gemma lost the keys to the restroom.
   The keys to the restroom were lost by Gemma.
3. Lupe painted the classroom last month.
   The classroom was painted by Lupe last month.
4. Paul stole my sandwich yesterday.
   My sandwich was stolen by Paul yesterday.
5. Steve will revise the report.
   The report will be revised by Steve.
6. All of the students wrote paragraphs.
   Paragraphs were written by all of the students.
7. The real estate agent listed several houses in March.
   Several houses were listed by the real estate agent in March.
8. The teacher has graded the students' essays.
   The students' essays have been graded by the teacher.
Please change the following passive voice sentences to the active voice. If no doer is indicated, add one of your own.

1. The ship was unloaded at the dock.
   The crew unloaded the ship at the dock.

2. These exercises were corrected by the teacher.
   The teacher corrected these exercises.

3. The reports are checked carefully by the supervisor.
   The supervisor checks the reports carefully.

4. Two of the customers were given free samples.
   The manager gave two of the customers free samples.

5. The freeway will be smoothed and repaved.
   Caltrans will smooth and repave the freeway.

6. Mr. Leandro’s computer will be repaired next week.
   I will repair Mr. Leandro’s computer next week.

7. The cars have been washed and polished.
   Jim has washed and polished the cars.

8. Jeff’s books were taken from his car.
   A thief took Jeff’s books from his car.

9. A lesson on the passive voice will be presented during class.
   Susan will present a lesson on the passive voice during class.
Active and Passive Voice 2

Please change the following active sentences to the passive voice.

1. The lawyer finished the presentation.
   The presentation was finished by the lawyer.
2. Gemma lost the keys to the restroom.
   The keys to the restroom were lost by Gemma.
3. Lupe painted the classroom last month.
   The classroom was painted by Lupe last month.
4. Paul stole my sandwich yesterday.
   My sandwich was stolen by Paul yesterday.
5. Steve will revise the report.
   The report will be revised by Steve.
6. All of the students wrote paragraphs.
   Paragraphs were written by all of the students.
7. The real estate agent listed several houses in March.
   Several houses were listed by the real estate agent in March.
8. The teacher has graded the students' essays.
   The students' essays have been graded by the teacher.

Please change the following passive voice sentences to the active voice. If no doer is indicated, add one of your own.

1. The ship was unloaded at the dock.
   The crew unloaded the ship at the dock.
2. These exercises were corrected by the teacher.
   The teacher corrected these exercises.
3. The reports are checked carefully by the supervisor.
   The supervisor checks the reports carefully.
4. Two of the customers were given free samples.
   The manager gave free samples to two of the customers.
5. The freeway will be smoothed and repaved.
   The Caltrans workers will smooth and repave the freeway.
6. Mr. Leandro's computer will be repaired next week.
   Bill will repair Mr. Leandro's computer next week.
7. The cars have been washed and polished.
   Sam has washed and polished the cars.
8. Jeff's books were taken from his car.
   A thief took Jeff's books from his car.
9. A lesson on the passive voice will be presented during class.
   Susan will present a lesson on the passive voice during class.